

LAS VEGAS

SUMMER 2015

WOMAN[®]

TO EDUCATE, ENTERTAIN
& INSPIRE

El

DORADO CANTINA

Excellent food, GMO-Free and organic too!

LEE CANYON
FUN IN THE SUMMER TOO!

DR.
TIGER

SEX, VIAGRA
AND MENOPAUSE

8
GREAT QUESTIONS
SUZANNE SOMERS

Alisa
SIGMAN

SUCCESSFUL ENTREPRENEUR THRIVES

LAWYERS AND REAL ESTATE AGENTS OF SOUTHERN NEVADA

PROFESSIONALS HELPING CLIENTS IN OUR COMMUNITY

Calanit Atia, president and founder of A to Z Events and Convention Models Directory, has received two awards in Beauty in Beauty Out and Distinguished Women in Nevada. Her company was selected as the preferred vendor for the recent National Association of Broadcasters convention. She is an Air Force Gulf War veteran and Golden Key Society Member. Atia also volunteers with a number of charities.

The Korte Company welcomes Sallie Doebler to its Las Vegas office. Doebler is a seasoned business development professional with an extensive background in marketing. She has 10 years of experience in business development for construction companies in the Las Vegas market. In addition to overseeing all business development and marketing efforts for commercial contractors, Doebler also established and managed her own construction business development firm in Southern Nevada.

Ava Mucikyan is the founder of Salt Room LV, which recently opened to create a drug-free, holistic experience. Salt Room LV recreates the microclimate of a salt cave, and the spa-like environment in the room creates an area of Zen to depart from the stresses of everyday life while enjoying the health benefits of salt.

Luana DeVol is the general director for Opera Las Vegas and has been appointed as executive director to lead the American Wagner Project, a program partnered with the Institute for Young Dramatic Voices. She also works with the Richard Wagner Society in Washington, D.C. The recently retired international soprano was a principal soloist first in German opera and a guest soloist featured in the operas of Richard Strauss, Richard Wagner and Giuseppe Verdi. She has also served on faculty at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Epicurean CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

Epicurean Charitable Foundation of Las Vegas has selected four Clark County high school students as scholarship recipients for the 2015 class to attend the University of Nevada, Las Vegas this fall including Sarah Figueroa, Mia Salomon, Benjamin Sison and Anna Tymoshevska.

Attending Northwest Career and Technical Academy, Figueroa plans to pursue a degree in hospitality management, with a focus on event planning. Figueroa's goal is to become a manager in the hospitality industry. In addition to participating in the hospitality program at NWCTA, she is a member of DECA and has volunteered at a number of events around the city including the Bridal Spectacular Convention at Cashman Convention Center.

Salomon is a multi-talented student from Southwest Career and Technical Academy who plans to pursue a degree in hotel management. She is an active member of DECA as well as a regular volunteer with the Make-A-Wish Foundation and Three Square Food Bank. Salomon intends to join MGM Grand's Hospitality Internship Program while attending school and enroll in its Management Associate Program after graduation. Her biggest goal is to become one of the top female executives at a resort in Las Vegas.

Tymoshevska ranks No. 20 out of 534 students in her class at Basic High School, where she is also a member of DECA and WeRCommunity. Without knowing English, she moved from the Ukraine two years ago and through the multicultural society she participates in, was able to find her passion in hospitality. Tymoshevska will study hospitality management in the fall and hopes to one day take her education and international background into a senior management position with a well-known global corporation.

The Howard Hughes Corporation announced that Jeanie Haddox has been hired as specialty leasing manager for Downtown Summerlin. Haddox joins the leadership team responsible for managing the 106-acre, 1.6 million-square-foot development, which represents the first phase of Downtown Summerlin. In her role as specialty leasing manager, Haddox is responsible for managing all common areas and short-term leasing initiatives.

Chelsea Davis is a laser technician and master esthetician with Surgical Dermatology & Laser Center, where she performs laser dermatology treatments such as chemical peels, skin tag removal, facial rejuvenation treatments, tattoo removal and acne scar treatments. Davis received training through the National Institute of Medical Aesthetics and is NCEA certified. She is also a member of the American Society for Laser Medicine & Surgery.